Foreign Ministers Agree to Ask Russian Aid to Ease Far East Tension

Fear of Uprising Brings Action in E. Germany

By JOSEPH FLEMING
BERLIN (UP) — The East German Communists have ordered the confiscation of hunting weapons in fear of an uprising by rebellious workers, it was reported today.
Weapons possessed by hunters and even those of forestry officials are being seized, the anti-Communist "Free Jurists" investigating committee said. The committee gets its reports from refugees and other sources.
Advices from the Soviet zone said that workers had started slow-down movements in factories in protest against Russian moves in the Big Four foreign ministers conference to keep them under the Communist yoke.
In addition to previous reports of precautionary Soviet reports of movements, it was reported today that Soviet tanks had been concentrated near Fuerstenwalde, 20 miles southeast of Berlin.
The slow-downs in factories were reported by the West Berlin "Flight" Continued on Page Two NEWCOMER—Sen. Robert W. Byrd, Republican, is New Hampshire's newest member of Congress. He was named to fill the vacancy left by the death of Sen. Charles W. Tobey.

WINNER—Paul G. Hoffman is the winner of the 1953 gold medal awarded annually by the George Washington Carver Memorial Institute for outstanding contributions to the betterment of race relations and human welfare. Hoffman is former director of Economic Cooperation Administration.

Russia Speeds Aid to Reds in Indochina

By WILLIAM MILLER
TAIPEH, Formosa (UP) — Russia is speeding technical and material aid to Communists in Indochina in an all-out effort to crush French Union defenders, Chinese reports said today.
High-ranking intelligence sources said Russian staff officers and military experts already are in Indochina directing military operations which recently have smashed back French forces.
It was recalled that these sources predicted a few months ago that the Reds would mount their present offensive in Indochina.
Chinatown News Agency, a semi-official Nationalist organ, said Chinese Communist troops, disguised as Vietminh rebels, had been sent into combat along with a regiment of Japanese war prisoners.
The Chinese Communists were reported to be avoiding their Korean war mistakes and were disguising their "volunteers" in fear of American retaliation.
The intensified fighting in Indochina was described in Taipei as part of Russia's timetable for complete domination of Southeast Asia.
Step one was the Korean armistice, according to these sources. Step two would kick the French out of Indochina, and step three would open the way for a Red sweep of Southeast Asia.

U. S. Seeking Formula for Peace Talks

By DONALD J. GONZALES
WASHINGTON (UP) — State Department officials were searching today for a formula to get the preliminary Korean peace talks back on the track without causing the United States to "lose face" throughout Asia.
Informed sources said the major hitch is Arthur H. Dean's strong public statement that the United States never would resume the talks until the Communists retracted their "verfied" charges against this country.
Dean, chief United Nations delegate to the preliminary conferences at Panmunjom, called off the negotiations abruptly Dec. 12 when the Reds leveled the accusations.
State Department officials — and later Dean himself — consider the sudden boycott of the talks on such insubstantial grounds was a serious mistake. But now the question is how to get off the hook.

Plans All Made Before Talks With Molotov

By JOSEPH W. GRIGG
BERLIN (UP) — The Western foreign ministers agreed at a strategy session today to ask Russia to intervene with Red China to ease tension in the explosive Far East.
The U. S. and British foreign ministers went to the residence of French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault to map their plans before entering the Big Four conference's first session at 3 p. m. (U. S. time) today.
After agreement had been reached on the language to be used in the restricted meeting with Soviet Foreign Minister Vyacheslav Molotov, Bidault served lunch to his allies.
U. S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and Bidault also confirmed that they would reject Molotov's demands for a global conference with Red China.
But they saw faint hope of getting Molotov to exert pressure on the Peking regime to find a peaceful settlement in Korea and later in war-torn Indochina.
At any rate, Molotov's reaction was expected to be a tip-off as to whether the Russians really want a settlement in Korea.
Dulles, Eden and Bidault also planned to use the secret session as an instrument for fixing a date for beginning discussion of the long-delayed Austrian peace treaty.
The secret session was held in the presence of German, French, British and American officials. The West would like to avoid further discussion in view of Molotov's conditions.

By PRESTON GROVER
BERLIN (UP) — The Big Four foreign ministers moved back to Berlin's Western sector today, trying in secret session to solve some of the world problems they couldn't settle in open debate.
Their first secret meeting this afternoon was called for discussion of Russia's demand for a world disarmament conference and for a Big Five conference on world problems that would give Communist China official status as a great power.
The ministers also were expected to discuss how and when to take up the question of an independence treaty for Austria.
The three Western ministers were reported determined to confront Molotov with a three-point program:
1. They will meet with Red China only for discussion of such Asian issues as Korea and Indochina, and only if the Peking regime demonstrates good faith by cooperating first on a Korean settlement or else stops arming the Communist-led Vietminh rebels in Indochina.
2. The Big Four must first decide on their trusteeship demands on Germany, unless Russia is ready to modify her demand.
3. All international attempts to bring about world disarmament must be within the United Nations. Molotov had proposed such a conference be held outside the international organization, so Red China could attend.

Minor Damage in Auto Accident

Nine Indicted for Surplus War Ship Deals

WASHINGTON (UP) — The Justice Department today announced the indictment of nine individuals and six corporations or charges of conspiracy to defraud the government in multi-million dollar deals in surplus ships after World War II.
Among those indicted was Joseph E. Casey, former Democratic member of the House from Massachusetts.
Casey allegedly headed a group a Senate committee charged made fantastic profits in post war tanker deals.
Another of those indicted was Aristoteles S. Onassis, world power in the shipping trade.
The indictment was returned by a District of Columbia federal grand jury last Oct. 13, but was kept secret by court order pending the surrender of Onassis.
Onassis, native of Greece and now a citizen of Argentina, presented himself in the Federal District Court here today and after the indictment was opened, entered a plea of innocent.
Chief Judge Bohita Laws authorized his release on $10,000 bond, but stipulated that he could not leave the country while the charges are pending against him.
The wealthy Onassis arrived in the United States last week. He has shipbuilding and ship operations scattered throughout the world.

Young Pearson Enters School in Florida

David Pearson left yesterday via plane for Florida where he will enter the Apollo boys school and become a member of the famous choir.
A benefit program over KXAR Saturday night assured enough money to send him to school. Actual contributions and pledges taken during the program which lasted about three hours will total the $900 providing all the pledges are fulfilled.
The local Music Club which assumed the responsibility of collecting the money, will try to get in all pledges as soon as possible, according to Mrs. Virginia Gardner, president.
David won a $900 scholarship but needed an additional $900 to assure him of a year of special training. His unusual voice convinced local civic club leaders that it would be in Mrs. Virginia Gardner, presiding benefits afforded at the Florida school.
So practically every civic organization in the city teamed to put on the radio program which proved successful. David's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Roland Pearson, managed to finance his flight fare to Florida.
During his year at the school the lad will receive special voice training, piano, accompany the choir on a national winter tour, attend a summer encampment beside regular academic work.
Taking part in raising the balance of the scholarship were the Kiwanis, Rotary, Lions, Cosmopolitan, Delta Kappa Gamma, David's own Eighth Grade Class, National Honor Society, Key Club, Music Club, B&PW, PTA, Chamber of Commerce and many more.

McMath Continues Silence on Plans

LITTLE ROCK (UP) — Former Gov. Sid McMath was quoted yesterday as saying he definitely was a candidate for the U. S. Senate, but McMath promptly denied the report at his Sheridan home last night.
Gen. Prescott, staff photographer for the Arkansas Gazette said he heard McMath tell the AFL Arkansas State Council of Machineists that he would run against Sen. John McClellan.

Many Persons Practically Give Up at the Age of 68 But This Singer Starts a New Career

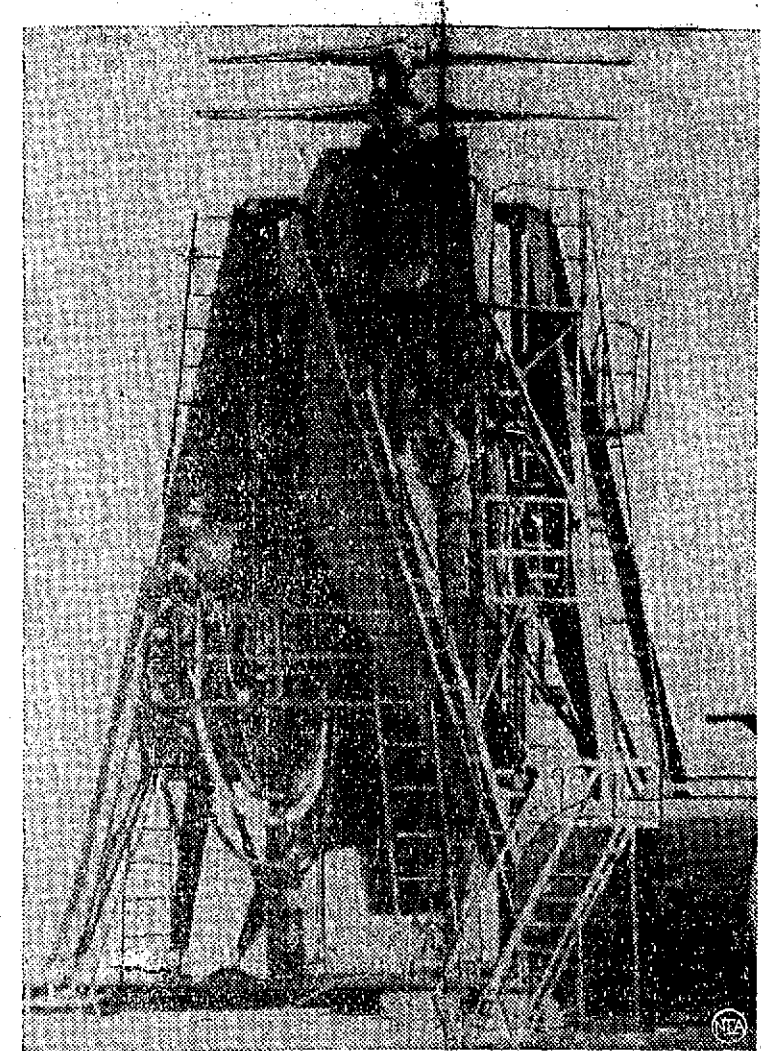

BY HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (UP) — At 68 many men and women feel they are through.
But at 68 Giovanni Martinelli, one of the great voices of our century, began a bright new career as a salesman.
He now sells what he used to sing — opera.
"I am a bridge now," he said, "a bridge of experience."
It is really his greatest role. In his lifetime as one of the finest tenors within living memory he estimates he has sung to some 7,000 audiences around the world.
Today watch Sunday he capsules in "Opera Cameo," a Dumont television network feature, the plots of operas he used to sing himself. His job is to explain what the vocal artists are yodeling about.
Giovanni, sometimes called Joe, was an is a tremendous artist, a nice chunky guy with flaming blue eyes and a big mop of white hair. It is ironic that Joe he can reach more people with a conversational tone than he could in the days when he could match a high note with any man in the tenor industry. But Joe doesn't mind.
"It is enough for me that more people now love opera," he said.
Tenors are generally as jealous of each other as women. Joe may Continued on Page Three

Local Group Is Interested in Fishing Area

White Oak Lake Association of Ouachita County was organized over the weekend with two Hope men being named to Board of Directors. . . . Leo Ray and Talbot Field Jr.
Others attending the Chidester meet were Kenneth Ambrose, Vincent Foster and Judge U. G. Garrett.
The State Game and Fish Commission is planning to spend $250,000 for a public fishing and hunting area if approximately 11,000 acres of land can be secured. The 1,000 acre lake which would result is about four miles west of Chidester along Highway No. 4.

Convict May Not Live to See His Book

SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (UP) — Cyril Whittier Chessman, a brilliant young man whose first book has been accepted for publication may never see the published copy.
The date of publication is July 26 — but he's scheduled to die in San Quentin's gas chamber in May or June.
Chessman, 34, is in the prison's death row awaiting the U. S. Supreme Court's decision on his final appeal, which he has little hope of winning. He has exhausted all avenues in the state's courts, and the nation's highest court has already twice turned down appeals.
The former Los Angeles "lover's lane" bandit was the first man doomed under California's "Little Lindbergh" law — kidnapping with bodily harm.
He was convicted of 17 counts of robbery, kidnapping, and attempted rape.
In his five and one half years in condemned row, the young man — with an I. A. of a genius — has taken his own apoplexy, plus numerous writs of habeas corpus which have amazed jurists by their brilliance.

FLYING "POGO STICK" — Nicknamed the "Pogo Stick," the Navy's "Navy Vertical Take-off Project" is nearing completion at the Consolidated Vultee Aircraft plant near San Diego, Calif. News of the twin-propellered craft, which is to be powered by a turbo-prop engine, has just been released by the Navy. Designed to take off and land vertically, the plane could possibly be used as an escort aircraft for landing ships or troop transports, taking off and landing on decks. Rosston-East Road to Be Re-graveled

The State Highway Department on February 4th issued the Work Order for the commencement of construction on the Rosston-East Gravel Surfacing project. This work is 11 miles in length and involves the placement of gravel surfacing on the Rosston-East Road, State Highway 4, Section 7, Nevada County.
The contract was awarded to the Mississippi Valley Contracting Company, Incorporated, of Fargo, N.D., on their low bid of $19,745.00 and is scheduled for completion in 40 working days. Traffic will be maintained during the construction period. The work will be under the supervision of Resident Engineer, J. C. Webb, a veteran of 28 years experience with the Department. Headquarters will be maintained in Camden.

Band Wins Honors at Spa Clinic

Twenty-five members of the Hope high school band with their director G. T. Cannon, returned Saturday from Hot Springs where they participated in a two-day meeting of the Southwest Arkansas band clinic. This clinic, held last year in Hope, is an annual event conducted under the auspices of the Arkansas State School Band and Orchestra Association. Included in the southwest Arkansas region besides Hope are Hot Springs Lakeside (Hot Springs), Nashville, DeQuette, Murfreesboro, Texarkana, Ashdown, Lewisville, Stamps, Magnolia, Prescott, Gurdon, Arkadelphia.
From the one hundred sixty seven high school musicians in attendance, forty-eight were selected as candidates for the All-state band, to be assembled later this month. Of this number selected, eleven were chosen from Hope after unusually hard competition in tryouts. They are: Syble Shirley, Wanzell Nix, Judy May, Benja Newbern, Jimmy Haynes, Volmer Dean Boyd, Bennie Edmiston, Janet McKenzie, Delmer Welliver, Kirk James and Leroy Brown.
The guest conductor for the clinic bands was Mr. James Neilson, director of bands at the University of Oklahoma City.

Obsitnik Wins Photo Contest

LITTLE ROCK (UP) — The Arkansas Gazette's chief photographer, Larry Obsitnik, has won the highest honor offered to newspaper cameramen in Arkansas for the second straight year.
The C. E. Palmer sweepstakes trophy in the annual Arkansas Associated Press photo contest was awarded to Obsitnik Saturday.

Blevins Festival to Raise Funds for Cage Uniforms

The P. T. A. is sponsoring a Valentine Festival, Wednesday night, February 10, in the Blevins gymnasium.
The purpose of the carnival is to start a fund to buy new uniforms for the basketball team. The present uniforms were purchased eight years ago.
The festival will be in the form of a carnival and the theme will be "Sweethearts." There will be concessions for old and young, a play session for the youngsters, a sweethearts contest to select the most popular pair of sweethearts who will reign over the festival. The chairman, Mrs. J. W. Rushing, promises there will be lots of good food to eat.
One of the highlights of the evening will be a program which will include a talent show, the rhythm band and the real high spot "A Womanless Wedding," which the cast say will lay the audience in the aisles with laughter.
The door admission will be 15 and 25 cents.

All Around the Town

"Pop" Downs, veteran lawman and currently watchman for the Arkansas Highway Department, is happy to report to enquiring friends that he hasn't been shot up as a lot of people had "heard" throughout this section of Arkansas. . . . apparently the shooting is supposed to have occurred at Prescott but people from as far away as Magnolia telephoned him over the weekend to find out about it and offer sympathy. . . . Pop didn't even try to trace down the source of the rumor.
A big forest fire was burning in the Proving Ground over the weekend but is believed to have been brought under control by Forestry workers.
Miss Rosa Harris, president, Mrs. J. W. Patterson, Mrs. Cecil Delaney and Mrs. Wilton Garrett attended the state B&PW Board meeting in Little Rock Saturday and Sunday.
At Hendrix College, Conway, Billy Gentry, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Gentry and Sydney McMath, son of Mr. and Mrs. Syd McMath of Hope, were on the Dean's Honor Roll list.
Graduating from Chanute Technical Training school near Chicago were two local boys, A. J. Jimmy H. Easterling and A. J. Regis H. Stock. Donald E. Greene, son of Dick G. Green of Hope, is serving with a unit of the Navy Construction Battalion attached to the First Marine Aircraft Wing in South Korea.
Horace Kennedy will MC a quarter singing tonight at 8 o'clock in Hope City Hall. Joe Rogers and his Melody Boys, McDonald Quartet of Jackson, Tenn., James Stages' quartet of Magnolia, and Redway quartet of MacArthur and others will be on hand.

ron Curtain Case Dismissed

LITTLE ROCK (UP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court today dismissed one of two cases involving Crittenden County's "iron curtain" rule for lawyers.
Still undecided is the question whether out-of-state attorneys are required to have Arkansas associates before being allowed to practice in the county's courts.
Because no "final appealable order" had been filed, the Supreme Court dismissed the appeal in the case of Maurice Letaw and others against Doyle Dadd.
It was this suit for damages of $10,000 which developed into the controversy over whether Memphis lawyers could practice in Crittenden Chancery court without an Arkansas associate.

Dollar Day in Hope Wednesday and Thursday

Wednesday and Thursday, February 10 and 11, is Dollar Day in Hope. This is another in a series of promotions planned by the Retail Merchants Committee of the Hope Chamber of Commerce.
During the two day period special values will be available to shoppers in this section of Arkansas, according to Chairman Corbin Foster and H. C. Hall, the February committee chairman.
The key to Dollar Day values will be a dollar bill. Watch Tuesday's Star for details and information.

Tax Forfeited Land Doesn't Include Oil

By LEON HATCH

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Arkansas Supreme Court today held that the state's permitting purchase from the state of land forfeited for non-payment of taxes do not cover oil and gas interests treated separately from the land itself, the Arkansas Supreme Court held today.

Associate Justice Paul Ward, who wrote the opinion, noted that it was the first time he questioned had been decided by the court. Associate Justice George Rose Smith dissented to the opinion but did not file a written dissent. Justice Schuman of Little Rock said that the persons filed a petition in Ouachita County Chancery Court seeking to conform their title in oil and gas rights in certain lands.

In such instances, the oil and gas rights but not the land itself has been needed from the original owner to another person. The petitioners said the oil and gas rights had been for non-payment of taxes and that they had acquired these interests at tax sales.

The Chancery Court refused to confirm title. In upholding this refusal, the Supreme Court said that the basic statute providing for purchase of forfeited land was passed in 1888.

It is common knowledge, the court said, that in 1898 there was a change in the operations in Arkansas and that oil and gas were brought in production extensively anywhere in the United States. This being true, it is not reasonable to suppose that the Legislature in 1888 intended for the word land to include interests in oil and gas.

Feels Ike's Program Has Good Chance

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Kenneth C. Walker, D-California, the GOP Senate leader, said today the prospects for enactment of a substantial portion of President Eisenhower's legislative program are looking good at the time. "I think that when Congress has completed its work, we will have a program that will meet the needs of the country," Walker said in an interview.

Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall, on an NBC television program yesterday, expressed similar optimism about the prospects not only for the legislative program but for the Republican chances of picking up more congressional seats in the November elections.

He said Eisenhower's leadership has given the party a tremendous lift and he expects a gain of 15 to 25 seats after a campaign based on the President's "record of achievement."

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS
CHICAGO (AP) — Wheat and soybeans moved upward on the Board of Trade today in active dealings. While a little stalling pressure appeared late in the day, causing a slight dip, both wheat and soybeans ended with substantial gains. Feed grains, a little lower in early dealings, recovered to show small fractional advances.
New crop wheat figures made now seasonal highs on continued dry weather in the south. The old crop crop was wanted on the prospect of export business this week. Soybean were aided by rumors in soybean oil and belief supplies will run very short later this year.
Wheat closed 1/2-2 1/2 higher.

300 Security Risks Fired Last Year

WASHINGTON (UP) — Scott McLeod, top State Representative security officer, said today that 300 "security risks" resigned or were fired from the department last year.
The former FBI agent, a controversial figure in the administration, also said that much of the criticism aimed at him was caused by the "generous endorsement that my friend Joe McCarthy gave me right after my appointment."
"As you know there is an almost pathological hatred of Senator McCarthy in some quarters," McLeod said in a copyrighted interview with U. S. News & World Report, a weekly magazine.
He said McCarthy (R-Wis.) had "absolutely nothing" to do with his appointment, which he said was made on the recommendation of Under Secretary of State Donald B. Lowrie.
Since 1947, McLeod said, 500 homosexuals have been dismissed from the State Department. However he refused to give any breakdown in the 360 "terminations" last year. A security risk covers everything from subversion to drunkenness, sex perversion, or loose talking.
McLeod said he does not know why five former diplomats recently wrote a letter charging that State Department morale was being lowered by his security procedures.

Bodcaw Wins in Community Contest

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — District winners — from which the state champion will be selected — were announced today in the third annual Arkansas Rural Community Improvement Contest.

They are Goshen in Washington County winner in the northwest district; Ten Mile in Saline County, southwest district; Tech High community in Greene County, northeast district, and Rock Springs in Drew County, southeast district. Judges will visit each of these communities this week to pick the one which did more than any other in the state to improve itself during 1953.

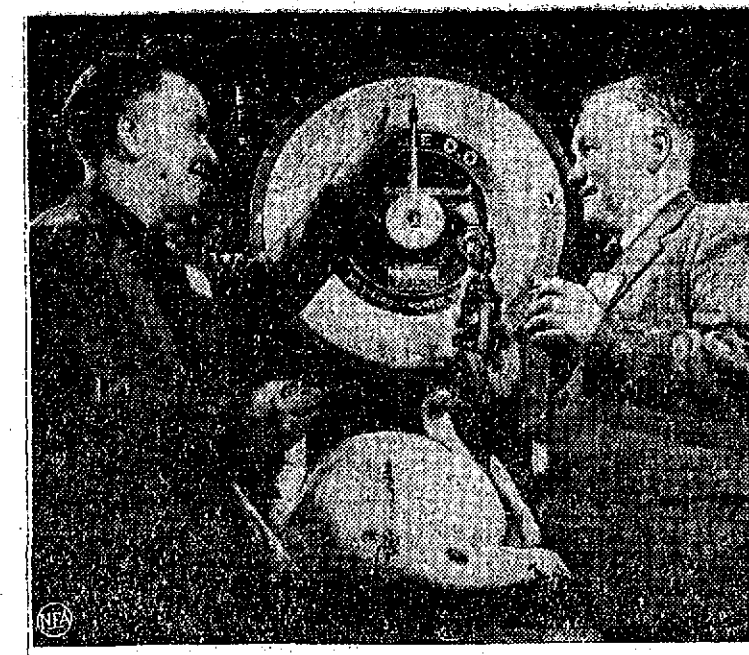

The contest is sponsored by the Arkansas Agricultural Extension Service, the Arkansas Press Association and the Arkansas Power and Light Co.

About 230 rural communities were judged. The top four in each district were ranked this way:
Northwest — Goshen Enterprise, Sebastian County; Pless, Pope County, and Delmar, Bone County.
Southwest — Ten Mile, Bodcaw, Nevada County; Lydesdale, Columbia County, and Thornburg, Perry County.

Northeast — Tech High, Goshen, Craighead County; Remmel, Jackson County, and McElroy-Smith Chapel, Cross County.
Southeast — Rock Springs, Park Grove, Monroe County; Cane Creek, Grant County, and Y community, Cleveland County.

Larry Rothwell
Honored With Birthday Party

On Friday afternoon, February 5, Mrs. Rufus Rothwell honored her son, Larry, with a party at kindergarten on his 6th birthday. Following a period of supervised play, the young guests marched into the schoolroom singing "Happy Birthday."

Balloons marked the place for each child. The color note of white and pink emphasized the table decorations and the center table held a birthday cake decorated with the cowboy motif surrounded by six lighted candles.

Cold drinks, ice cream and heart-shaped cakes were served by the hostess. Afterwards the honoree opened his gifts.

have his jealousies, but in a talk with him I couldn't discover them. He sang dramatic roles for 34 consecutive years. He is comfortably sure that no schoolboy will remove his honor.

"To be a singer is to be serious," Joe said. "never smoked, drank only enough to be comfortable with my friends—a little glass of wine." "No I didn't go in for gymnastics to stay fit. I cannot say I love sports because I do not but I like to walk and every day I walk."

"I learned another thing in the 40 years I sang—never to walk by worries home. Singing is a very difficult career. It must be realized, if one is to enjoy this world that its pleasures must be

Betty White Does Well in Five Years

BY BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD — Five years ago, Betty White was a struggling young actress who did TV commercials for nothing. Today she starts on NBC deal that could net her more than a million dollars in five years.

Betty is a bright-faced brunette with a smile that could warm a pawn broker's heart. On TV she sings a little and talks a little but mostly she glows. She exudes a friendliness that is rare in this nervous age. NBC is banking on this quality to capture the housewife's attention from coast to coast.

So he has been doing a good job of it locally. Last year she was named the outstanding personality in Los Angeles TV by the Academy of Television Arts and Sciences.

Now she's starting a five-a-week half-hour on the NBC network. She'll appear with Frank Devol's orchestra and the Four Jokers, one of the best new acts in show business.

"We'll have a nice, easy show," she says. "Not one of those real fast, flam-bang shows that you feel you have to sit there and watch. Women are too busy during the day to do that. They want the kind of show they can look at between chores around the house."

She is frank enough to admit that she's somewhat flabbergasted by the new project. Only a few years ago, she was doing TV for the experience.

Chicago-born, she came here when she was 2 and grew up in the land of sunshine. Her ambition was to be a singer but she realized she didn't have enough talent to become another Dinah Shore. So she turned to radio acting a little theater work.

When TV started to blossom she enjoyed parsimoniously. They must be disciplined."

When I asked Joe who he thought was the greatest singer he had knowledge of, he named the only man I have never heard another tenor admit he could equal.

"I can only say he is a man who has been a long, long time in heaven—Enrico Caruso," he said. "I will not discuss his voice. You must agree that all tenors have a voice. But Caruso could put his hear in his voice as no other man ever could and those who deliberately try to do what he could do can only be an imitation for even if they had his voice—and they don't—they cannot match his heart."

Martinielli, in talking about singers, speaks more of heart than voice.

"After all, we are human—not just an instrument," he said. "Singing is an intimate pleasure. You must enjoy yourself, first, if you are to communicate it to others."

"But it is hard. When is the time to quit? It is not really the voice that goes. It is the heart that gave us the advice to slow down. There comes a time when the heart says, 'take it easy, Giovanni, take it easy.'"

A smile came over Martinelli's pale, expressive face so he said "On television I am in a spotlight, not not behind the footlights. It is new to me but beautiful. No, I have not retired. I talk, but a singer sometimes does not like to hear his voice when he is talking."

"Yes, I am happy. I still love to sing for those who want me to sing. Only a few songs... only a few... then the heart says, 'No, Giovanni, no more.'"

UNTIL THE ANGELS TAKE OVER—Taking no chances, Little Ronnie Ladd, 4, of Ft. Worth, Tex., waits until the last minute to part with his cowboy hat and his "shootin' iron." The rough-and-ready son of the west is in the process of saying his prayers.

YOU'D BE HAPPY, TOO—Sidney Estow, glass dealer of Hicksville, N. Y., is $5000 richer for having suggested a name for a new, ultra-distortion-free glass. Said to be ideal for military use, the new glass will also be used in manufacture of home mirrors. His prize of $1000 in cash, and 100 shares of stock, was given by the delighted manufacturer, Libby-Owens-Ford.

angled jobs delivering commercials.

"At first I did them for nothing," she recalls, "but then I decided it might be better if I go paid for them. The station agreed, and they began paying me $5 per appearance."

Her big break came 4½ years ago when she was signed to play the "secretary" of Al Jarvis on a daytime show over KLAC now KCOP. That meant being on camera for a large part of 5½ hours she has probably done more TV than any other girl in the country.

She continued with Jarvis' replacement, Eddie Albert, then did the show on her own. At the same time, she appeared on a weekly situation comedy, Life With Elizabeth, which is now appearing in 80 cities.

Her possibilities as a national commodity were seen by Don Federson, manager of her station, who is now masterminding her fortunes. He analyzes her appeal thusly: "Women like her because she isn't in competition with them. Men like her because she is the kind of girl they'd like their daughters to grow up to be."

chief Washington correspondent, Roscoe Drummond, wrote today that to solve the dilemma the State Department is withdrawing Dean from his assignment.

"A replacement for Ambassador Dean—not yet finally selected—will shortly be announced," said Drummond, "and coincidentally we will return to the conference table at Panmunjom."

The report could not be said to be confirmed officially. Dean said no comment in New York. A U. S. spokesman at United Nations headquarters said he knew nothing about the report. Very high sources here also disclaimed knowledge of Dean's impending resignation.

Condition of Pope Is Some Better

VATICAN CITY — Pope Pius rose from his sick bed today and spent some time settling in an armchair — the first time he had done this for an considerable period since Jan. 25.

The pontiff's private physician and the Vatican Press Office announced his health is improving. The later, in its daily bulletin, said the doctor has advised the Pope "to move about some within his chambers."

Vatican sources said the Pope did this. He also took food—his first many days. Previously he had been able to hold down only liquids.

But the brief words and the previous hopeful reports did no quell the fears that have arisen for the health of the frail Pontiff, now 77. For the past 15 days the Pope has been scheduled in his Vatican Palace apartment, confined to his bed with a stomach ailment of undisclosed nature which has greatly entangled him.

Prayers for the Pontiff's health were repeated in Roman Catholic churches throughout the world. Thousands of letters and messages poured into the Vatican from far points expressing hope for his recovery.

Galeazzi-Lisi's report this morning was terse. "The Pope rested well and his improvement continues."

After issuing it, the doctor left the Vatican to go hopping in downtown Rome — an indication that perhaps slightly less concern was felt for his patient's condition today.

The Pope is also being treated by a Swiss glandular and internal specialist, Dr. Paul Niehans. For the past several days, one or the other has been in attendance at all times at the Pope's simple apartment.

Writer, Woman Slain, Man Is Sought

NEW YORK (AP) — Maxwell Bodenheim, bad boy writer of the 1920s, and a woman believed to have been his wife were found slain yesterday. A 25-year-old "fast talker" was sought by police today for questioning.

The 63-year-old Bodenheim was discovered with the woman in a cheap furnished room where drink and poverty had sent him after a spectacular and controversial career in the 1920s and 1930s as a writer of poetry and harsh fiction. Police today issued a 13-state broadcast for Harold Weinberg, alias Joseph Greenburg, and warned that he "may be armed."

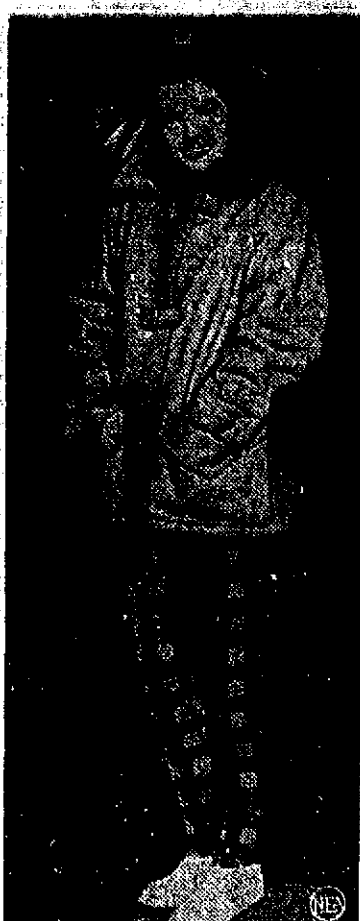

Meanwhile, 50 picked detectives started a methodical search of Manhattan for clues.

One of the areas on which they concentrated was Greenwich Village, the Bohemian mecca of artists and writers where Bodenheim had flourished and flourished.

Chief of Detectives Thomas A. Nielson told newsmen last night that "this is definitely not a robbery murder."

No other motive was indicated. The room in which police found the bodies of Bodenheim and the woman, identified as Ruth Fagan, 34, had been rented three weeks ago in Weinberg's name.

Whether Bodenheim had registered under the Weinberg name or shared the room with Weinberg was not made known by police.

Four Killed in Malvern Train Accident

By The Associated Press

A Missouri Pacific passenger train smashed into an automobile full of Malvern residents early yesterday morning, killing four persons.

They were among at least 18 persons to die violently in Arkansas during the week ending last midnight.

The dead: Homer Lee Lashlee, 30, and his 25-year-old wife, Ronnie Lee Hardwick, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Hardwick, James Paul Helman, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Helman. A fifth occupant of the car, 11-year-old Reggie Reynolds, suffered a broken arm and severe shock. The impact of the collision which occurred at a level Malvern crossing, hurled the car 238 feet. Burns suffered when the train caught fire while she was standing by an open fireplace. The death yesterday of Charlene Chase, 4-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Chase of Fort Smith. The accident happened Dec. 22. Bill Lyon, 54, of Malvern, drowned Saturday when the boat in which he was fishing sank in Lake Catherine. Laura Williams of Little Rock perished Saturday night when the servant's quarters at the rear of a Little Rock home of a 20-year-old Little Rock hotel employee, John Edward Climbaker, died late Sunday night when fire destroyed a small cabin in which he lived about 10 miles from Little Rock.

THE STORY OF MARTHA WAYNE

Coldness of Cold War Is Emphasized

JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Watching Soviet ministers' conference which has been like looking into a refrigerator, there you could see the cold war really is.

Thinking the view was chilling, the meeting has produced no ice in the ice, no sign of melt. But no one had predicted otherwise. Optimism about the meeting was zero before it began.

Ministers — the United States, Britain's Eden, France's Bidault, Russia's Molotov — have been polite, have dined together and haven't changed anything which have been frozen for years.

Asides, the best the United States could hope for out of the conference was:

That it would end with the handshake between this country, Britain and France as firm as in spite of any Molotov. It seems to have suffered a little so far.

That the United States would be able to outdo Molotov in winning friends through the statement of a case, which was already well known anyway.

That Russia probably hoped the meeting was weakening of the American-British-French partnership. The meeting isn't over. Monday yet pull out an ace.

For instance, the French would jump at the chance if he could find a way to end their war with the Communists in Indo-China. After losing men and money for years, they're sick of it.

The United States, which has been trying to bolster up French resistance, is afraid that a poor agreement by the French in Indo-China might open the door to the Communists taking over all South-East Asia.

At the price the French had to pay for a settlement was a delay or refusal, in joining the European Defense Community, the United States army might be willing to buy.

But the French have not agreed, against all United States wishes. The may continue to hold back even if Molotov offers at all. If Molotov cracks, EDC, his Berlin trip may have been worthwhile for the United States.

Instead of hulling the French, they may have scared them with his ideas on the future of Germany.

The reason for French delay in joining EDC — which would include West Germany in the army with the French — is a fear of feeling Germany start again.

But the French played on that by suggesting East and West Germany be allowed to unite and then be absorbed. O' the fact of it, Germany seemed to line with French desires.

But have to live twice about the course, since a Germany formed would be a broad target for Russian armies if ever began a sweep west.

Molotov's next suggestion was enough to fluster the French. East and West Germany unite under a single government made up of representatives from the governments of Germany.

German Communists in the government the door would be open for them to take over all Germany. The French would be less than if such a new Communist Germany, a Russian satellite, began rearing.

Mrs. C. H. Moore Presents Coterie Program

Seasonal decorations were placed at points of vantage in the home of Mrs. L. J. Bryson on Wednesday afternoon when she entertained members of the Prescott Musical Coterie.

The president, Mrs. Dudley Gordon, called the meeting to order and it was opened with the singing of the Federation Hymn and reading of the club collect.

Mrs. C. H. Moore presented the program on Edward McDowell, the American Composer and gave a history of his life and of some of the compositions he wrote.

A piano solo, "To a Wild Rose" was played by Mrs. Bryson. Mrs. Gordon played "To the Sea."

The meeting closed with the hymn of the month, "The Christian Life." Mrs. C. W. Dews gave a brief sketch of the writer of the words of this hymn, Henry W. Baker.

During the social hour Sarah Janet Bryson played a piano solo, "Choo-Choo Boogie" that was enjoyed by the eight members and a guest.

A dainty dessert course was served.

You get more space per dollar with a BUTLER Building

Look at a Butler steel building from the outside! Then step inside! You'll hardly believe your eyes when you see the amount of obstruction-free space so all usable for your business.

You get the space you need—when you need it—and slash up to 47 per cent off your building budget! And Butler buildings can be erected in days instead of weeks, adding further to your savings.

What's more, with Butler buildings on the job; you have practically no maintenance expense. Galvanized or aluminum sheets, bolted tightly to the rigid steel framework, assure you years of weather-tight, fire-safe and wind-safe protection!

Before you build, let us show you how a Butler building can be adapted to your business. Call or write today!
